

Independence, self-sufficiency, liberation!

With hard work it is all possible. Jack has celebrated some awesome achievements over the years such as lifting his own body weight in and out of his wheelchair, writing and operating a computer. Leisa and Ben, Jack's parents, admit it is not always easy keeping Jack on track, but then again he is only seven. Not only that, sometimes exercises hurt, but in true "Jack" style his spunk gets him through it.

Jack's therapy along with his bravery will aid in his progress as he matures, and Five Counties will be there for him. Will you?

"Every day Jack deals with physical discomfort that would bring most grown-ups to their knees."

Jack needs you now!

This is serious.

There are over 800 children already on our waiting list. If we don't raise enough funds this waiting list may grow even longer.

Every year, 5,000 children are helped by Five Counties. Of these, 450 have 100% of their therapy paid for by community donations — YOUR DONATIONS.
