

Five Counties
CHILDREN'S CENTRE

This kid is a MONSTER...

...a MONSTER truck maniac!

Yes, Nolan definitely has a passion for Monster Trucks! Since discovering them at 2 years old he has lived and breathed Monster Trucks. Now at the advanced age of 4 ½ he's even more serious about them. More on this later....

Nolan was born with Cerebral Palsy, affecting both his legs, hands, arms and speech. Referred to Five Counties at 6 months, Nolan receives physiotherapy, occupational therapy, speech & language therapy and he also sees the Center's pediatrician.

Building on his strengths

Walking was a huge accomplishment for Nolan. His feet & legs tend to curl inward. In physio, he is working on toes forward and climbing up and down stairs to improve his balance. This will also help Nolan work towards his goal of being able to ride a bike with his big brothers that he idolizes, Zach, Tyler and Ethan.

There's no buddy like a big brother

All of Nolan's brothers play lacrosse. They found their passion and ran with it. Nolan has found his passion too. Well guess what that is? Enter Monster Trucks!

For now, Nolan visits the "pits" at Monster Jam, soaking up all the excitement of the giant trucks, the noise, the colourful drivers and the mechanics. Yet one day, this could be Nolan's future if that's what he chooses.

Bucking Bronco team with Nolan and mom & dad.

The therapy Nolan receives through Five Counties will allow him to strengthen, develop and control the muscles in his limbs and hands as well as expanding his speech skills so he can become involved with Monster Trucks as mechanic or a driver. Then again he may choose to be something totally different like a lawyer or a veterinarian. As long as Five Counties has his back, the possibilities are endless.

Children are a priority.

Give Now!

Nolan`s mom & dad, Melissa & Andrew, are so grateful for the services he receives at Five Counties and how much progress he has made. The rapport they have with his therapists has created a comfort zone where questions can be answered and help is just a call away. Nolan is only one of 5,000 children depending on the life altering services Five Counties provides. YOU can play an important part in helping these children too.

An increase in fundraising income will help maintain services and could reduce waiting list. YOU can be a part of creating a successful future for local children and Nolan`s story is perfect example.

That`s why we need you.
